

PRODUCT

These adorable little bowls bring a bit of whimsical safari style to your home. Each is made from jacaranda wood that is hand-carved and painted in Kenya. They are so finely sanded that no lacquer is required. This process makes each bowl entirely food safe, but please hand wash.

As part of the Endangered Collection, we will donate 10% to animal conservation with each purchase.

ARTISAN

We have partnered with an amazingly talented group of self-taught artists that bring jacaranda wood to life at their studio in Kajiado, Kenya.

A group of 35 men and women carve and paint these delicate pieces by hand. Each artist receives all of their training on site from current members.
